

Complaints Handling Procedure

If you are not satisfied with the quality of the legal service you have received from us, then you may want to make use of our complaints procedure. We aim to deal with your complaint fairly, comprehensively and swiftly.

It may be helpful to keep this pamphlet to record the dates in which actions have been taken. This will enable you to keep track of when we should be getting back to you.

These investigations are conducted by Partners within the firm. They will look through your matter file, speak to the member of staff who acted for you and ultimately decide on the appropriate course of action.

Please note that you must contact the Legal Ombudsman within 6 months of receiving our final position. You however need to wait 8 weeks from initially raising your initial complaint to give us chance to rectify the position. You can find their details to the right.

The Ombudsman expect complaints to be made within a year of the date of the act or omission OR within a year from when the complainant should reasonably have known that there was a cause of complaint.

The Solicitors Regulation Authority can help if you are concerned about our behaviour during the course of your matter. Visit their website to see how you can raise your concerns with the Solicitors Regulation Authority (www.sra.org.uk).
